

PROHIBITION OF SALES TO UK RETAIL INVESTORS: The Securities are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (as amended, the "EUWA"); (ii) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the FSMA and any rules or regulations made under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (as amended, the "FSMA") to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (as amended, the "UK Prospectus Regulation"). Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (as amended, the "UK PRIIPs Regulation") for offering or selling the Securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the United Kingdom has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation. Notwithstanding the above, if the Dealer subsequently prepares and publishes a key information document under the UK PRIIPs Regulation in respect of the Securities, then the prohibition on the offering, sale or otherwise making available the Securities to a retail investor in the United Kingdom as described above shall no longer apply.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Securities?

Risk factors associated with the Securities: The Securities are subject to the following key risks:

- At maturity, the Securities do not provide for the full scheduled payment of the face value of the Securities: Depending on the performance of the Underlying, you may lose some or all of your investment.
- Risks relating to certain features of the Securities:
 - The ability to participate in any positive change in the value of the Underlying is limited, no matter how much the level, price or other value of the Underlying rises over the life of the Securities. Accordingly, the value of or return on the Securities may be significantly less than if you had purchased the Underlying directly or through another investment product.
 - The coupon amount will only be paid if the reference level of the Underlying on the relevant coupon observation date either reaches or crosses the coupon barrier level. It is possible that such reference level of the Underlying on the relevant coupon observation date will not either reach or cross the coupon barrier level, and therefore, no coupon will be payable on the relevant coupon payment date. This means that the amount of coupon payable over the term of the Securities will vary and may be zero .
 - The final redemption amount is determined based on the performance of the Underlying on the Final Valuation Date only (rather than in respect of multiple periods throughout the term of the Securities), and therefore investors in the Securities will not benefit from any movement in level of the Underlying during the term of the Securities that is not reflected in the performance of the Underlying on the Final Valuation Date.

• Risks relating to the underlying:

- Past performance of the Underlying is not indicative of future performance, and performance may be subject to unpredictable changes over time.
- The market value of and the return on the Securities depends on the performance of the Underlying and its components and other macroeconomic factors. Unless an Underlying is a "total return" version of the index, investors will not participate in dividends or distributions paid on the components comprising such Underlying. The index sponsor (and the Issuer of the Securities) may be subject to regulatory changes regarding the publication and use of the Underlying during the life of the Securities which may negatively impact the performance of the Underlying. The Issuer and/or the Calculation Agent may adjust the terms of the Securities in respect of the Underlying referenced in order to comply with statutory requirements and such adjustments may affect the value of and return on the Securities and may even result in the early redemption of the Securities (the early redemption amount of which may be less than the initial investment amount or zero)
- Investors will not have any legal or beneficial rights of ownership in the Underlying, and no claim against the index sponsor or any other third party in relation to the Underlying; such parties have no obligation to act in investors' interests.

• No or limited liquidity: The Securities may have no liquidity or the market for such Securities may be limited and this may adversely impact their value or your ability to dispose of them.

• Secondary market value: The market value of the Securities prior to maturity may be significantly lower than their original purchase price. Consequently, if you sell your Securities before their scheduled maturity (assuming you are able to), you may lose some of your original investment.

• Early redemption: The Securities may be redeemed prior to their scheduled maturity in certain extraordinary circumstances and in such case, the early redemption amount paid to investors may be less than their original investment. In such case, you may only be able to reinvest the proceeds on less favourable market terms compared to when the Securities were purchased.
